Workshop

Climate Change

■ Causes ■ Impacts ■ Solutions

The vulnerability of society and the economy to the impacts of climate change requires both appropriate emission reduction measures and adaptation policies. These are already of great importance, but will become more so in the future.

In particular, there is a great potential and demand for research on these topics in South-Eastern European (SEE) countries. The workshop will stimulate cooperation between research institutions on these topics.

Discussion will be stimulated by a few keynote lectures on the issues by invited specialists in this field. Participants are kindly asked to submit short abstracts on one of the following topics to find out potential similarities with our current research and research interests:

- Extreme events and water cycles (+ Adaptation Policies)
- Impacts of climate change on biodiversity and invasive species (+ Adaptation Policies)
- Agriculture and forestry (+ Adaptation Policies)
- Economic impacts of climate change (+ Adaptation Policies)
- Climate policies of South-Eastern European countries
- Kyoto protocol related issues (Clean Development Mechanism/ Joint Implementation/Green Investment Schemes)
- Emissions trading from the viewpoint of South-Eastern European countries
- Technology transfer and its potential

For participating please send an email including your abstract as soon as possible to climate@joanneum.at

For further questions please contact Mr. Daniel Steiner at the aforementioned email address or find information on our webpage www.joanneum.at/climate.
