WEDDA®

Manage your weather related business risks

Tailored weather risk analyses on a daily basis aids business planning

Weather influences consumer behaviour in many ways and thus the demand for a wide variety of products and services. Climate change and extreme weather increasingly disrupt the financial and operating performance of businesses. Manage your weather risk using WEDDA®, our weather risk assessment tool based on long-term research. If your business is involved with the tourism and leisure industry, large-scale and retail trade, beverage industry and energy supply or other weather sensitive products and services, then with WEDDA® we can offer you customized weather-based forecasts and risk management support. Using WEDDA® data in your daily decisions will help to optimize your business processes, to anticipate potential losses, to save costs and to use instruments to hedge against these risks.

Our WEDDA®-products support you in following:

FORECAST

Daily updated 10-day forecasts of your weather-dependent company figures

MONITORING

Tailor-made, weather-based indicators to monitor your company figures

RISK EVALUATION

Quantification of your company-specific weather and climate risks

“Thanks to WEDDA we have been able to plan our staff as well as the purchase of goods in the gastronomy exactly 5 days in advance. Expressed in terms of money, this is about several thousand Euros, which we can save now.”

Dr Michael Krainer, Holding Graz

Why WEDDA®?

WEDDA® determines the influence of the weather on your business processes and translates it directly into the key figures (e.g. turnover, sales volume, visitor numbers) that are relevant for your planning needs.

Daily updated forecasts ease your planning of personnel, deployment of goods as well as warehousing and help you to save costs.

Weather-adjusted key performance indicators provide you with increased transparency in the pursuit of your corporate goals.

Questions, WEDDA® helps to answer:

- How much turnover/sales may I expect in the coming days? How many visitors are to be expected?
- How can I further optimize my personnel placement and resource planning?
- What is my weather risk measured in Euros?
- How has weather impacted my business?

WEDDA® for your long-term planning

Are my medium- and long-term investment decisions “climate-proof”? WEDDA-4CPI (WEDDA® for climate proof investment) assesses your investment options under consideration of the associated climate opportunities and risks.
